St Denys Churchyard – Grave Space

As regular readers may recall, several years ago I forewarned that the churchyard would soon be full and no 'new' graves possible. The Stanford Civil Parish Council, and The Vale Council were formally notified, and they have been looking out for appropriate ground where a new cemetery might be located. We have recently undertaken a survey to find the exact route of an underground waterpipe which runs across the 'new' grave area, west of the Tower. As a result, we can now, confidently project that we have only 13 'new' grave spaces left in the churchyard. After that, it will not be possible for people to be buried in the churchyard unless there is an existing family grave with space available.

However, there is plenty of room for Cremated Ashes to be Interred. This year the PCC is looking at developing a Churchyard Policy to include turning the current area reserved for ashes into a Garden of Remembrance. In the meantime, may I reiterate the consistent legal position that: “only those who live in the parish, or who die in the parish can be buried in the churchyard”. I have long-since given up my Incumbent discretion to adjust this for pastoral reasons, as it was vital, we have a consistent approach.

Sadly, the reality is that in the vast majority of areas grave space is running out. I know from many funeral directors that towards London, people are paying up to £6,500 for a civic grave plot.

The topic of whether people are buried, or cremated, is not one which many people discuss openly within families. Yet it is vital that loved ones know our preference, if possible. It's also important we remember that our 'wishes' may not be possible for families/executors to carry out at the time, eg. if grave space is not available. One thing that people often find helpful is to consider cremation in its original form. Sadly, these days, cremation is often seen by some as a 'disposal of the body'. But, when commercial cremations started in the UK, the concept was that cremation would be 'a preparation of the body for burial'. Perhaps if we can see it in this light it might be more helpful, and an interment of ashes might be considered more appropriate for people?

Stanford Drama Group would like to thank everyone who supported our production of 'Daisy does it again' and helped to make it a success. We hope you all enjoyed it as much as we all did.

We would also like to thank all the groups who gave up their hall bookings for us; the Coffee Shop for selling our tickets and the Co-op for displaying our notice board.

We are looking for new people to join our happy little group as we are desperately short of members. You do not have to take to the stage to act as we need anyone who is happy to help with painting scenery, set building, make up and publicity, as well as having a go at acting.

We meet in the Village Hall on Tuesday evenings at 8.00pm. Enquires to 01367 710400
Come and give it a go – you will never know if you don't try.

Stanford Pre-school News

The children that joined us in January are making friends and settling into their new routine very well, we are pleased to report!

The arrival of snow for three- and four-year old's caused much excitement and we were pleased to be able to stay open and share in their fun;

building snowman and having snow ball fights in the Pre-school garden!

On Valentine's Day we asked the children to bring someone they love into Pre-school, to share a special breakfast with. We do this every year, but this year was our busiest! Thank you to those who came to enjoy a lovely breakfast with their child, we hope you enjoyed it.

The children have been painting wonderful self-portraits which look amazing on the Pre-school walls!

Please note: The Pre-School operates a waiting list, we advise parents wishing to secure a place for their child at the Pre-School to get their name down on to the waiting list as soon as possible. You can do this by downloading an enquiry form from our website: stanfordpreschool.org.uk or calling in for an enquiry form. If you have any questions, please call us on 01367 718696

A reminder about the forthcoming Local Elections

District Council elections are expected to take place in May 2019, and Parish Council elections follow the same timetable. Elections will only be held should there be more candidates than seats available. If you are interested, or have been considering standing for the Parish Council, any of the existing Councillors would be more than happy to discuss the obligations and address any questions or concerns you might have.
